Décision 2005/681/JAI du Conseil, du 20 septembre 2005, instituant le Collège européen de police (CEPOL) et abrogeant la décision 2000/820/JAI.

- Etablit CEPOL comme réseau des instituts de formations
- Objectif :
contribuer à la formation des hauts responsables des services de police des Etats membres en développant une approche européenne de lutte contre la criminalité, de prévention de la délinquance et de maintien de l'ordre et de la sécurité publics, notamment dans les cas transfrontaliers.
- Thèmes : connaissance des systèmes et structures nationaux de police, d'Europol, de la coopération transfrontalière et des instruments internationaux et européens.

- CEPOL participe à l'élaboration de programmes harmonisés, assure des sessions de formation, diffuse les meilleures pratiques et les échanges.
- La Décision du Conseil 2004/566 (initiative IRL – personnalité juridique) et la Décision du Conseil 2004/567 initiative UK – siège permanent à Bramshill) ont été adoptés par le Conseil le 26 / 07 /'04
- Le 1/10/'04 proposition de Décision du Conseil (COM (2004) 623final) visant à améliorer le cadre légal du CEPOL, en le dotant d'un financement au titre du budget communautaire, en faisant bénéficier son secrétariat du statut du personnel de l'Union et en introduisant la prise de décision à la majorité au sein du Conseil d'administration.

- Conclusions du Conseil le 24 /02/05 préconisant le financement communautaire et l'application du statut du personnel de l'Union mais invitant à n'examiner les autres aspects soulevés par la Commission que sur la base du prochain rapport sur le fonctionnement du CEPOL, prévu fin 2005.
- La Décision 2005/681/JAI du Conseil du 20 septembre 2005 (entré en vigueur le 1er janvier 2006), abroge la Décision de 2000 et vise à améliorer le fonctionnement de CEPOL selon les conclusions du 24/02/05.
- Le 18/07/05, le Conseil a approuvé le programme de travail '06 et le projet de budget.

Council Resolutions of 9 June 1997 and of 25 June 2001 on the exchange of DNA analysis results

1997 Resolution invites Member States

- to consider establishing DNA databases, in accordance with the same standards and in a compatible manner.
- build up DNA analysis results using the same DNA markers
- taking DNA material to store DNA analysis results subject to safeguards designed to protect physical integrity of individual

Demands that exchange is limited to the non-coding part of the DNA molecule.

Urges further study of system for information exchange, e.g. network of compatible national DNA databases on hit/no-hit basis.

Council Resolutions of 9 June 1997 and of 25 June 2001 on the exchange of DNA analysis results

The 2001 Resolution

- acknowledges that efficient exchange of DNA analysis results could be improved by the use of the same DNA markers.
- sets out an initial minimum list of DNA markers used in forensic DNA analysis in Member States (Annex 1; ESS – European Standard Set) and use form already in use in Interpol context. Council recommends to use electronic data exchange.

Future

- Treaty of Prüm of 27 May 2005
- proposal for a Framework Decision of the exchange of information under the Principle of Availability (COM (2005)490 final of 12 October 2005)
